Biographies:

Bradley Fuster joined San Francisco Bay University (CA) as provost and vice president for academic affairs in June 2024. Prior to this appointment, he served as provost and intermittently as acting president of Keuka College (NY). His tenure at Keuka College was marked by significant advancements in experiential learning, program development, and strategies that improved student retention. Before becoming Keuka's provost, he was professor and department chair of music at Buffalo State University (NY).

Peter White joined Colby-Sawyer College (NH) in 2001 as a faculty member in the Biology Department. Over the course of his career at the College, he has served in a variety of faculty governance and academic leadership roles, including as a faculty representative to the Senior Leadership Team. His work at Colby-Sawyer has been marked by a strong commitment to student success, including securing grants that have provided significant scholarship support and strengthened academic programs in STEM and Nursing. He most recently served as Dean of Nursing and Health Sciences before returning to his role as Director of Liberal Education.